Why Outsource Lien Resolution?

1) Minimize Operating Costs

Outsourcing lien resolution functions can provide a distinct economic advantage for sole practitioners and law firms. Every business wants to decrease operating costs and increase efficiency which can be accomplished by outsourcing this time consuming function. The large amount of time and effort devoted to lien resolution functions post settlement typically creates a loss to the firm's bottom line. Given the constant changes to subrogation law and evolving techniques used to resolve liens, an outsourcing solution provides access to the latest, most efficient resolution practices. This ensures that the client is protected and allows them faster access to their settlement funds. Why not outsource lien resolution functions and have them paid as a case cost? Synergy offers many flexible pricing options designed to ease the cost of lien resolution for you and your client. No matter the size of your case or project, we can develop pricing to meet your needs.

2) Gain a Partner & Resource

By outsourcing to Synergy, you gain a knowledgeable partner and resource for the difficult lien resolution issues. Without knowing every potential lien resolution argument and latest rules/procedures associated with health plan liens, attorneys and their staff are prone to inefficiency. We have the necessary expertise to accelerate lien resolution.

3) Last Impression Upon the Client

Are clients waiting for their settlement proceeds because lien resolution is holding things up? A law firm or lawyer's reputation with past clients is critical for driving future referrals. To make sure clients are happy at the end of the case, outsourcing may be the answer. Speeding up the process and getting dollars to the client by accelerating the lien resolution process becomes a win-win for everyone.
